W. C. Whittegere, M. C., Kentucky.

[Renews the life of the muscles, nerves and digestive organs.—Brown's Iron Bitters.] Mr. Robeson asked Mr. Neal if he considered the police force efficient. Mr. Neal said he (Mr. Robeson) could answer that question as well as he could. He said that New York city had only one square mile of territory more than the District, and yet New York had Mr. Urner said he had never heard until to-day that the District Commissioners had rules pre scribing that no one over 40 years of age should be appointed on the force. If they have such rules, they are in contravention of law SHARP WORDS. Pending the further discussion of the bill, Mr. Cox and Mr Robeson had quite a spirited passage of words. Mr. Cox asked Mr. Robeson if he had been a soldier. The reply was, "Yes: I belonged to the same brigrade you did." Mr. Cox said he had always voted money and men to carry on the war, and some of the amounts he had voted for | this mail, asking information as to the origin and in the shape of liberal appropriations after the war had given him a reproach of conscience. The latter remark was intended direct for Mr. Robeson on his administration of the Navy department Continuing, Mr. Cox said he trusted no malcontent who needed strengthening at home would drag in the bloody shirt on such a bill as a Washington Mr. Neal said the District was, in his judgment, the worse policed of any city in the United States. Other cities have one policeman for every five hundred inhabitants. New York, one for every four hundred and fifty, while Washington has only one for every one thousand people. Every mar now on the torce was a soldier, and could not be discharged save for cause. He did not deny the Commissioners had a regulation requiring two years residence in the District, and an age under forty as a requisite for appointment. A vote at half-past two was ordered by yeas and nays on a motion to strike out the second section of the committee's bill, which allows the District Commissioners to give soldiers preference, all things being equal." This will no doubt prevail, and the law will stand as it now is, as follows: "No person shall be appointed as policeman or watchman who has not served in the army or navy of the United States and received an honorable discharge." The District Committees.

MITTER. The House committee on the District of Columbia, at to-day's meeting, unanimously adopted a resolution to ask for the second Monday in May for an additional day to be devoted by the House to the consideration of bills reported from the committee on the District of Columbia. The committee agreed to report favorably a bill to increase the police force. As amended and agreed upon the bill provides for one captain, ten lieutenants, twenty sergeants and two hundred privates. In appointments to positions on the force, all other things being equal, discharged soldiers and sailors are to have preference.

The law to extend the jurisdiction of justices of the peace in the District was ordered to be reported favorably.

The bill introduced a day or two ago making it a felony to enter a bank or shop with felonious intent was ordered to be reported favorably. Mr. Neal was directed to report a bill, which he has prepared with care, for the refunding of what are known as the M. G. Emery assessments. That portion of the municipal code which applies to taxation was also ordered to be reported favor-

THE PERUVIAN COMPANY INVESTIGATION

MR. BLAINE BEFORE THE COMMITTEE HIS TESTIMONY CONTRADICTING SHIPHERD.

The announcement that Mr. Blaine would appear before the foreign effairs committee this morning in connection with the pending investigation not only insured a prompt attendance of crowd which soon filled the committee rooms and | properly punished blocked up the corridor immediately adjoining. Admission to the rooms was mostly restricted to members of Congress and the press. Mr. Blaine arrived at 10:40, and after a brief conference with chairman Williams, took his seat at the toot of the committee table and produced a large portfello of papers and documents, at r which he was sworn, and chairman Williams put the inquiries "Do you know Jacob R. Shipherd? Have you read his testimony?" to which witness answered, "I do; I have read his testimony and have endeavored to understand it." Mr. Blaine then asked that the resolution authorizing the investigation be read, which was done. Mr. Blaine then stated in substance that he never saw or knew of the letters in the State de-partment until Mr. Shipherd was introduced to him (Blaine) by Senator Blair. Until then he had never seen the man or heard of him until the 25th of July. Mr. Blaine then explained the method of disposing of papers in the State department, which would account for his previous statement, and added: "Such trashy matters as the Shipherd letters would never be called to the attention of the head of a great department, as they were searcely fit for the waste basket."

THE MISSING PAPERS. Representative Kasson asked: "Do you know how they came to be missing from the files?" Answer .- "I don't know a thing about it. I know as little of it as a child unborn; they were not addressed to me, but were simply routine matters reterred in the ordinary course of business. One would suppose I had passed the summer with him as a matter of fact. IN REGARD TO THE INTERVIEW which it was alleged that I had with Mr. Shipherd on being introduced to him by Senator Blair on the 25th of July, so far from that interview lasting until late at night, it lasted only about fifteen minutes. Then I excused myself on the ground of important business and the interview was postpo ned until the next morning, and I did not see Sh lpherd after that or hear of him until the 13th Shipherd has had his full say as to what the policy of the government toward him is it occurred to me that the best course for the committee to pursue would be to inquire from the department what that policy was." THE OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE. Mr. Blaine then produced what he stated was the entire correspondence between himself and Mr. Huribut during his administration at Lima. WHY MR. BLAINE DID NOT KICK SHIPHERD OUT. "Mr. Shipherd came to me and stated that he was the representative of a very important claim called the Cochet claim. I had never before heard of it and asked him how he spelled the name. He told me Senator Blatr was one of his counsel, and also added the names of ex-Senator Conkling, Hon. Scott Lord, ex-Senator Cragin and others. I thought it a very strange array of counsel. He named about a dozen prominent financiers and bankers, including the Seligmans, Morton, Bliss & Co., and others. I mention these facts en passant, because I have been criticized for not kicking Shipherd out of the department the first morning he called, but when a man comes introduced by a United States Senator. with three ex-Senators and an ex-Secretary of the Treasury as counsel, and an array of backers virtually did do later, and for not doing which I have been severely criticized." MR. BLAINE'S WARM DEFENSE OF THE DEAD PRESI-DENT. Mr. Blaine then related the points of his conversation with Shipherd, in which he (Shipherd) read what he claimed to be the opinion of ex-Secretary Evarts, to the effect that Cochet could claim onethird of the guano. Mr. Blaine said with much emphasis: "I would be willing to take the most solemn oath that President Garfield died without ever having heard of this vile scheme, or ever having heard the name of Cochet mentioned. Witness the next day called Mr. Trescott's attention to the matter, and the latter at his (Mr. Blaine's) dictation wrote a dispatch. Mr. Blaine then proceeded to read the entire correspondence between the Department of State and Minister such as he mentioned, it would hardly be the cu-tom of the department to kick him out on sight. This explains why I did not do what I

Hurlbut, touching the Cochet claim. THE CORRESPONDENCE. In the latter part of July the dispatch just mentioned was written to Mr. Hurlbut as follows: "Through the American holders or their attorneys you will, no doubt, be placed in possession of the facts regarding this claim, but you will take no step towards committing the government thereto till you have received further definite instruction." On the 22d of September Mr. Huribut replied: "I ack nowledge the receipt of your dispatch. As to the cochet claim, this legation has nothing but vague statements toward the creation of a commercial enterprise and can take no judicial action. I have been favored with two letters, to which I reply by extent of this claim." On the 17th of November Mr. Blaine replied "Your No. 12, in reference to the Landreau claim received. In regard to this subject I became convinced that there was not even a preliminary inquiry necessary. There is no just ground upon which this government can intervene. If American citizens purchased an interest in this claim they purchased nothing more than the original purchaser possessed. They did not purchase the good offices of this government, and you are instructed not to extend to them those offices." On November 2d another dispatch was received from Mr. Huribut, which crossed Mr. Blaine's answer to Mr. Hurlbut's previous dispatch, in which ne says: "I wrote to the department, in my No. 12. my opinions on the Cochet claim, on which Mr. Shipherd and his associates relied. I have also written to Mr. Shipherd, and have pointed out to him the utterly defective proof as to the possessions. The whole matter rests upon assumptions: First, it is not true in fact that Cochet discovered either of these claims—they have been used for an hundred years; second, it is not true that Peru ever recognized him in such capacity; third, it is not true in fact that they descended to his son. I am inclined to doubt his sanity as to truthfulness." Mr. Blaine said, in answer to this dispatch, on December 5th he wrote Mr. Huribut as follows: duly received. I have pleasure in expressing my appreciation of your course as detailed therein, and especially your action in sending hitherto the correspondence in the case. Perhaps I should mitigate somewhat the severity of my language in view of the possibility of the fact that Shipherd is not wholly in his right mind."

This ended the correspondence between the State department and Minister Hurlbut on the Cochet claim, and Mr. Blaine proceeded further to address the committee as to his relations with Mr. hipherd. He continued: "Mr. Trescott looked over the matter to see if there was any claim to property, as was claimed by Mr. Shipherd upon Mr. Evarts'opinion, and found there was nothing in it. Subsequently I had a conversation with Mr. Elmore, which fully satisfied me on the subject." AS TO A SUBSEQUENT DISPATCH.

Mr. Belmont inquired: Was there not a subse-Mr. Blaine explained that the Peruvian company survived the Cochet claim, and Mr. Shipherd in formed him that ex-Senators' Conkling and Eator would soon start for Peru in its interests, and after that he wrote the dispatch, such as would al-ways be given where Americans of high rank were interested. In the case of the Cochet claim it was found to be a Peruvian claim, in behalf of which the department could not, under any circumstance, use its offices, but the Peruvian company, being an American company, was entitled to the kind offices of our minister in any investigation that might be made in Peru in their behalf. A LETTER OF SENATOR BLAIR CONTRADICTING SHIP-In regard to Shipherd's story about the $250,000 bribe offered to Mr. Hurlbut, and his (Shipherd's) statement that he told him (witness) about it and took the opinion of all his counsel about it, Mr. Blaine stated that he had written to the several gentlemen mentioned by Shipherd and he would read to the committee the correspondence. Witness wrote to Senator Blair, asking if he remem-bered to have heard Mr. Shipherd in his (Blaine's presence mention any offer of $250,000 of stock to Minister Hurlbut, and received the following reply, which he read: "WASHINGTON, April 10, 1882. Hon. James G. Blaine:

DRAB SIR:—I never heard Mr. Shipherd state to you that he had offered Mr. Hurlbut $250,000 of stock. I never heard that he made such an offer until I read it in the published reports of his evidence before the foreign affairs committee.

(Signed,) HENRY W. BLAIR."

THER CONTRADICTIONS OF SHIPHERD'S TESTIMONY Mr. Blaine then read his letter to ex-Secretar, soutwell making the same inquiry, and the latter's reply that he had never heard Shipherd say that he had offered Huribut $250,000.

He also read similar letters of denial from Mr. Scott Lord, ex-Senator Eaton, ex-Senator Cragin, Mr. Wm. H. Robertson, and raised a general laugh by adding: "There is a very large lie out there, and I don't think it will require a very searching investigation to locate it." Mr. Blaine then read his (Blaine's) correspond ence with ex-Secretary Evarts, in which the latter lenied that Mr. Shipherd had any authority for quoting him in any way; that he had never given iny opinion or been asked to give any whatever is regard to the Cochet claim; that he was absent in Europe and did not know until his return, and then only through the public prints, that Mr. Shipherd had been using his name.

MR. BLAINE'S OPINION OF SHIPHERD. "I have not," said Mr. Blaine, "the slightest hesitation in saying that this man Shipherd should be sent before a grand jury. It is flat, unthe members of the committee, in stracted a qualified perjury on his part that ought to be Mr. Blaine read a letter from Mr. Elmore de nouncing Shipherd's description of his interview with him (Elmore) as false in every particular, except that he had permitted Shipherd an introduc-tion and furnished him with copies of the finan-cial contracts of the Credit Industriel with the Peruvian government.

Mr. Elmore says in the letter: "In regard to my alleged statement I had seen a marginal note, 'Go in Steve,' I need not assure you that it is absolutely false,"

Mr. Blaine's Emphatic Contradiction. Chairman Williams having reminded the witness that he had not yet made any denial of his own, Mr. Blaine quickly responded, "Oh! Oh! It is an absolutele, detestable, out-of-the-whole-cloth lie, and I don't think the man is of sound mind." Mr. Blaine maintained that Shipherd's version that he had met the late Mr. Hurlbut by the latter's appointment, and that they had sat upon a sofa in a public corridor and held such an interview as Shipherd described, was absurb. Mr. Blaine ut-terly discredited any other explanation than that Shipherd had waylaid Mr. Huribut and secured a merely casual chat with him.

Mr. Blaine characterized in most forcible lan-guage the assumption of Shipherd in assuming to speak for President Garfield as simply infamous, and with eloquent vehemence declared that he was prepared to take the most solemn oath, so firm were his convictions, that President Garfield went to his death without ever having seen or heard of Shipherd or his claim. MR. BLAINE CALLS MR. BELMONT TO ACCOUNT.

Mr. Blaine, referring to the printed testimony taken before the committee, asked Representative Belmont, "where, in his (Blaine's) dispatches he found any such language or implication as he (Belmont) had put into his mouth?" Mr. Belmont declined to discuss the matter, except at the proper time, which, as he thought, to designate as early a day as possible for the hear-Mr. Blaine replied that he called the gentle man's attention to the matter, as he disclair any such expressions as the gentleman (Mr. Bel-mont) had put into his mouth in his questions to Shipherd. He then read from the evidence one of | that he had withdrawn from the case and had so in-Mr. Belmont's questions, in which he prefaced an formed the court. The accused was substantially inquiry with "The retaring Secretary wrote his last dispatch on the 19th of December, in which he says in effect that there shall be no treaty of peace between Chili and Peru unless the Landreau claim no doubt the court would give him reasonable time is considered.

"Now," said Mr. Blaine, "I would be obliged the gentleman will read from my dispatch and not from his notes, and he will find what I did say. I said to Mr. Hurlbut: 'While disabusing the mind of the Chilian government of any impression that the United States meditates any interference, yet justice would seem to demand that Landreau should be entitled to a hearing before any settlement is made which involves a cession of territory,' which is quite another thing from what the gentleman puts into my mouth." Mr. Belmont.-I am not responsible for the re-

Mr. Belmont.—But I did not put the quotation marks there. Mr. Blaine-But this evidence was printed at the Government Printing Office. Did you not read the proof?

Mr. Belmont.—Only carelessly.
Mr. Blaine.—Well, I should say very carelessly. Mr. Belmont.-I do not care to enter into a dis cussion at this time. I am responsible for the language used in my questions. Mr. Blaine.—Certainly. I have called the gen-tleman's attention to what I did say and to what he has attributed to me that I did not say. At a quarter past twelve the committee adjourned till 10 a.m. on Wednesday, when the examination of Mr. Blaine will be resumed.

THE COURT THINKS TWO WEEKS ENOUGH. Judge Cartter said the court wanted to give this case a deliberate consideration. It was true that the case was an extraordinary one, though the principles of law involved in it were not very novel. He thought the counsel should be able to prepare themselves in two weeks. The court had a responsibility in the matter. The case had been protracted before the public, and ought to be dis-posed of as early as compatible with justice. The court, therefore, was of opinion that two weeks from to-day should be set for the hearing. "Will your honor not make it two weeks from Wednesday?" asked Mr. Reed.

ant, and he thought that if any case was on hearing that day, it ought to give way to this.
"The court will be ready to hear this case two weeks from to-day," said Judge Cartter, firmly. WHY MR. SCOVILLE'S LETTER WAS NOT READ.

Judge Cartter said the court would prefer that, and if it is practicable would so order. He remarked that the crowded condition of the courts Mr. Reed said again that he would assure the court that his oral remarks would be very brief-The court then proceeded to other business; but Mr. Reed, arising again, remarked that he had re-ceived a note from Mr. Scoville asking him to read the increased pay. The Indian Outbreak.—The War Department has received from Gen. McDowell the following inthe Presidio of San Francisco, New Mexico, April 221: Four cavalry and one infantry company were on the point of marching for Stein's Pass, in Pe-sonal affairs upon the court, but cannot refrain from saying that my unfortunate and rejuctan connection with this case has been the source of untold trouble to me. Guiteau says that he regrets that his relatives had not all died twentyfive years ago. It certainly would have been better for himself and for the world, at least for the late Garfield and Scoville portion of manking if he had never been born.

I think the action of the court in declining to grant my reasonable request for time declining to grant my reasonable request for time will not be approved by the bar of the country."

The reporter asked why it was Guiteau seemed to have confidence in him? "Why, Guiteau says," replied Mr. Reed, "that I have never lied to him, or cheated him, or tried to make anything out of him. When I was in New York recently, lawyers there advised me to stick to the case until it was over and I would get commendation for it, whatever the result, so I intend to stick by the case."

"Will Guiteau appear in court when the arguments are heard?"

"No; the law does not require it. If he makes the claim that he is his own counsel, I don't know what will happen. That will have to be decided hereafter."
